A GROWING NEWSPAPER IN A GROWING COMMUNITY

CAMPBELL is not the only city that is singing the gas station blues.

We note that Cupertino is faced with a similar problem and that city also wants to take steps to slow up the service station avalanche before that community is known as "Gasoline Gulch".

We gleaned this information from an editorial by Bill Norton, editor of the Cupertino Courier. The editorial appeared in the last issue of that paper.

—o—

AT FIRST GLANCE it would appear that we were in collusion with Bill, for Norton's editorial appeared the same week that we had sounded off editorially.

Our editorial was labeled "Service Station Saturation" and Bill's was tabbed "Gasoline Gulch?" but the music was the same.

To carry the coincidence a step further, we published an editorial cartoon by John Norris depicting a street loaded with service stations. The Cupertino Courier had a little sketch heading its editorial with the same general theme.

It was just happenstance that such similar journalistic outbreaks occurred in both papers in the same issue.

We are reprinting the Cupertino Courier's editorial in our issue this week just to emphasize, if nothing else, that the service station saturation problem is not confined to Campbell alone.

—o—

ONE OF THE TOUGHEST QUESTIONS to decide, in our opinion, is just how many service stations should there be before the saturation point is reached.

We have a hunch that there can not be any set formula. Opinions will vary.

Take Campbell for instance. We counted more than 20 station just within the city limits either operating now or about to operate, give or take a couple.

Now when we say that 20 are two many, how in the heck are we going to back up?

—o—

ALTHOUGH RESIDENTS of W. Campbell Ave., with Mrs. Frank Coker of 1797 W. Campbell Ave., have staged a valiant fight to block a service station in their area, Under the present zoning ordinances, their objections appear to be futile.

BUT one thing is certain, Mrs. Coker et al in losing, have rendered valuable service to the community as a whole. Their battle has focused the community's attention on the gas station problem and the City Council has taken steps to see what can be done about it for the future.

—o—

"LEGAL BEAGLE" is not the official title of the Campbell City Attorney.

City Attorney Joseph Bonacina at a recent Council meeting suggested in a diplomatic way that an informal motion be made by one of the councilmen in which the City Attorney was referred by as the "legal beagle" of the city should be changed.

He suggested that the more formal title of "city attorney" would look better in the minutes of the meeting.

You know how it is. attorneys must have things just so.

Shucks. we sorta like the sound of "legal beagle".

—o—

OUR GOLF GAME (and we use the term loosely) has not improved as much as we would like (That. of course. is an extreme understatement).

We continue to bat the ball around with zest and but somewhat forlorn hope that some day we will find our game. (We have been looking long enough.)

It's too much or too little at meeting...

Too much in one instance and too little in another was about the way the Campbell Planning Commission figured on Tuesday night.

In the "too much" action the Planners took steps to curb the avalanche of service stations in town and in the "too little" one recognized the lack of fire protection in an industrial section off McGlincey Lane.

TOO MUCH

The Commission. acting on the motion of Thayer Lyons, who initiated the discussion on "service station saturation", set a public hearing for September 6 on an amendment to the City's zoning ordinance which would require use permits for prospective service stations in the C-1-S zone. Under the present ordinance no use permit is necessary. Commissioner Les Harmon voted against such a change. He said that it would be the same as requiring use permits for drug stores or any other business that is allowed in the zone.

TOO LITTLE

Until the lack of water mains in the industrial tract on Cristich and Griffith lanes (off McGlincey) is rectified, in order to provide for adequate fire protection, the Commission served notice that no more "S" approvals will be granted for buildings in that area. The City Council has also indicated it would follow the same policy. Denied Tuesday was the request of Fishback and Tanner for approval of plans for a building in that area.

It was reported that Fire Chief George Maxwell was concerned because there was no water for fire fighting in that area. although there were five businesses already established. Water is being hauled to the firms in the area now in tank trucks. It was noted also that attempts by city officials to arrive at an understanding with the property owners had failed. Several conferences had been called but few of the property owners had attended.

Planning Consultant Nestor Barrett reported also that the city engineer had indicated that some of the buildings in the area now did not appear to coincide with the plans that had been previously approved by the Commission. The Commission asked that W. L. (Bud) Morser, building inspector, attend the next Commission meeting to report on this situation.

Kiwanians make softball award

The Yankee Gra-Y softball team of Rosemary School, runner up to the winning Hotsy-Totsy Gra-Y of Hamilton School, was presented with Good Sportsman certificates Tuesday by the Kiwanis Club of Campbell, sponsor of the Campbell Gra-Y program.

The Yankees, one of six teams in the area program, was voted the honor by the remaining five teams.

The presentation was made by L. E. (Bill(Means). chairman of the Kiwanis Boys and Girls Committee to Chris Burt. vice-president of the club, who was pinch-hitter for vacationing team captain Craig Skillman, on behalf of his teammates.

In addition to Burt and Skillman. the team is composed of Eric Brendal, Michael Aguilar, John Trocolli, Darryl Ferguson, Mark Ebner, James Strickland, Gary Olson, Dennis Reiter and Kenneth Reiter. George Reiter is club leader.

. . . fireman dies

Donald E. Rice, 37, Campbell fireman dies in hospital

His fellow members of the Campbell Fire Department will pay their final tribute to Donald E. Rice, 37, this afternoon at 2 o'clock when funeral services will be held for the fireman who died Tuesday morning following a diabetic attack.

Personnel of adjacent fire departments will "stand by" for Campbell this afternoon to allow the entire personnel of the Campbell department, both regulars and volunteers, to attend the services which will be held at the Campbell Memorial Chapel.

Rice, a native of Campbell, died in the San Jose Hospital Tuesday morning where he had been taken on Monday following a diabetic attack at his home at 250 N. Central. Before he was taken to the hospital his follow members of the Campbell Fire Department administered oxygen to him in answer to a resuscitator call at his home.

Rice, who is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel G. Rice of Campbell, was a 1941 graduate of Campbell High, and had been a regular of the Campbell Fire Department since August, 1959. He had served as a volunteer in the fire department since 1941. Prior to joining the fire department he was employed by the Campbell city street department for two years and had been a Campbell postal emplovee for nine years before that.

He served in the Army for three years during World War II. He saw duty in the European Theater where he was awarded a Bronze Star and a Purple Heart for wounds received.

Olds, of the Campbell Congregational Church, will conduct the funeral services this afternoon which will be under the auspices of the Morning Light Lodge No. 42, IOOF, of which Rice was a longtime member. He was also a member of the Barnes Encampment No. 77, IOOF, Santa Clara County Firemen's Association and the California State Firemen's Association.

Interment will be in the Madronia Cemetery, Saratoga. Pall bearers at the services today will be Bill Morgan, Bruce Gammon, Bert Harris, George Adamson, Harold Shelly and William Stoutmore.

COUNCIL TO MEET

Campbell's City Council will hold its regular meeting at the City Hall next Monday, August 8, at 8 p.m. Dr Edward J. Rogers, political science professor at San Jose State, who has been absent from his Council post during the past month on an European study tour, is expected to be in his place on Monday. The Council is expected to take steps to set up interviews for the applicants for city manager who have survived the initial "weeding out" process.

City to get master plan in two weeks

Campbell's long-awaited master plan will be ready within two weeks, Nestor Barrett, planning consultant, told the Planning Commission on Tuesday night.

At the same meeting, the Commission approved the report of the land use committee which specified that the proposed site for a new Campbell post office on Latimer Ave. "merits consideration" along with any other sites that might be proposed.

Lewis Woodfill and Homer Hyde of the committee made the report which was adopted by the Commission after considerable discussion. The Commission emphasized that the adoption of the report was not to be construed as prejudicing or endorsing the Latimer Ave. location.

The feeling of the Commission on the feasibility of the site for a postoffice had been requested by Charles Rose, owner of the property. He explained that postal officials were anxious to learn how city officials felt on the matter to avoid unnecessary delays.

Rose said the property extends 125 feet on Latimer (across from Esther Ave.) and is 290 feet in depth. He added that the postal officials had upped their square footage requirements three times since they first looked over the property

The master plan, Barrett told the Commission, will contain 60 pages and several maps and is now in the final stages of printing. He said that after the plan is presented to the City, that several public hearings will be held before its adoption.

In other actions on Tuesday, the Commission,

1. SET FOUR public hearings on August 16 for zone changes: (Monterey Homes, R-1 to R-D in Fairlands addition; Dubert D. Powell, R-1 to R-2 at 138 W. Campbell; A. G. Lantz, R-1 to R-2 at Hardy and W. Campbell; Calvin Wilson R-1 to R-3-S at 250 N. San Tomas Road).

2. APPROVED the parking variance and building plans for offices for Mervin L. Dick at 425-437 San Jose-Los Gatos Road, specifying that an old building on the property was to be removed. The matter had been continued from a previous meeting to allow the Commission members to visit the property.

3. APPROVED the application of Robert T. Morris, lousy game there are a number of compensating factors which continue to keep us interested: (1) it provides an excellent relaxation from the problems of everyday business; (2) it gives one a chance to enjoy the wholesome outdoors; (3) it provides healthful physical exercise and (4) it provides for pleasant companionship.

Following that philosophy, you see the type of game one plays is purely secondary.

At least that is what we have been told by the better players.

—o—

WE DON'T MIND being kidded about our atrocious game because we do feel we are showing vague signs of improvement.

Recently we were awarded (anonymously) a "Certified Golfer" certificate which specified that we had survived "every catastrophe known to golf". The certificate was all prettied up and was quite fancy.

We tacked it up on our office wall alongside similar mementos. Then by some high-powered sleuthing we discovered that Fire Chief George Maxwell was responsible for the award.

One of the other mementos on our office wall is a huge plastic golf ball and club that Police Chief John Morgan sneaked in our office recently when we were not looking.

We hate to be catty about all this, but in our opinion, both Campbell's stalwart chiefs were apparently attempting "to get even" with us. You see we had trounced both of them so soundly and expertly in table tennis, a game which we are more proficient than we are in golf, that they probably wanted to get back at us.

—o—

ACTUALLY ..we.. don't mind receiving these "awards" for our golf game.

You see we have a hunch that we will never win any golf tournament because of our prowess so these special "awards" sort of compensate for that particular void in our life.

Then there is always that utopia . . . another day is always coming.

And that's the reason we keep going back.

—o—

INCOME TAX payments by the little guys in most cases create quite a struggle in their fiscal life.

But it is our observation that the so-called "little guy" is much more conscientious about paying his tax than many of the "big guys".

We become quite peeved at the lack of consideration given the "little guy" in many instances by the gilded bureaucrats who run the internal revenue operation.

But more on that another day.

Temper, temper, temper.

4. APPROVED the application for a variance in the front yard setback from 25-feet to 20 feet in most of the lots in the Coventry Village units 2 and 3 provided that front and back yard equal 45 feet.

5. SET A NEW PUBLIC HEARING on the request of Richard W. Briggs to eliminate the one-story height restrictions on 38 lots in a proposed new subdivision on Sunnyoaks off Virginia. A new hearing was necessary, Assistant City Attorney Thomas O'Day advised because the text amendment of the original ordinance which limited the height must apply to all in the area and not just one party. Two commissioners, Thayer Lyons and Homer Hyde voted against setting the hearing.

Magazine reports peddlers conceal drugs in candy

Narcotics peddlers can now create unsuspecting addicts by concealing drugs in exotic confections, report. LISTEN magazine, a Seventh Day Adventist publication, in its summer issue.

The candy, called majoon is currently being tried out in Italy and France on young people, and if this method proves successful, it will be introduced into the United States, LISTEN says. Voice of the American Temperance Society, the journal makes it a point to keep close tabs on developments in the narcotics field as well as in the area of alcoholic beverage.

Ingredients for the new "candy", the magazine says, include marijuana leaves, datura seeds, poppy seeds, henbane, ghee (butter), and honey. "Ghee serves as a carrying agent," the report states; the "honey adds flavor and also serves to give body to the confection." "The poppy seeds are simply to add flavor, . . . since opium is not derived from the seeds of the flower.

"The combination of butter, honey, and poppy seeds lends an agreeable taste," LISTEN explains, "while the henbane, datura, and hemp or marijuana combine to render this "candy" a terrible narcotic. This may be introduced easily, and will give effects to distort the mind out of all proportion and make the user a confirmed addict in the shortest possible period of time."

The magazine places the origin of the new confection in a small processing plant in North America. "It is being exported via the smuggling route for tryout in Europe. The outlook is by no means pleasant," the article concludes.

Phone company to offer new detailed billing

Pacific Telephone is now planning to offer, on an optional basis at additional cost, detailed billing of heretofore "bulk billed" multi message unit calls.

Terms of the proposed new service were released today following approval by the California Public Utilities Commission of a filing covering this new billing service.

Under the proposal, customers in the Bay Area may arrange for detailed billing of their multi-message unit calls for a one-time charge of $1.50 to establish the service. A charge of one cent per billed call would also be made with a minimum monthly charge of fifty cents.

Because of equipment modifications that will have to be made, the Company expects it will be 12 to 18 months before detailed billing can be provided in all locations throughout the Bay Area served by Pacific Telephone.

For subscribers to this service, multi-message unit calls which are now lumped together in a monthly total on the bill are to be detailed separately in a manner similar to long distance calls. The detailed statement will show date, number called, and the number of message units applicable for each multi-message unit call.

ASSIST LOS GATOS

Campbell police assisted Los Gatos police Saturday, with the arrest of two negro men suspected of stealing gas from a construction truck after being informed that the men were driving toward Campbell on the freeway. Campbell police spotted the car and occupants and gave chase, bringing the car to a halt at the Moorpark overpass. The suspects were then turned over to Los Gatos police for booking.

Sanitation District 4-San Jose feud over sewer problems

County Sanitation District 4 (which serves Campbell and other cities and county territory) has charged the City of San Jose with deliberately breaching agreements with District 4 in order to enhance San Jose annexation program.

At the last meeting of the directors of Sanitation District 4, the directors unanimously passed a resolution submitting the list of breaches to the San Jose City Council.

Last April the directors authorized Stephen Goodman, district manager, to list the alleged breaches and attempt to negotiate with San Jose city officials. Because San Jose has not replied to the charges the directors last week directed the list of breaches be sent directly to the San Jose City Council.

The main issue of conflict concerns the refusal of San Jose to allow District 4 to connect to approximately one mile of the San Jose system in order to reach a District trunk sewer that would serve Cambrian Park and Moreland area tracts. San Jose, in refusing permission, contended that such a connection would adversely affect its annexation plans.

In addition, the District claims that San Jose has also ignored the recommendation by county health officials that the installation of sanitary sewers in the Moreland and Cambrian Park areas was a necessary health measure.

District 4 also lists other breaches and claims that San Jose has exceeded the capacity in the District trunk sewer lines used by San Jose.

The San Jose Council this week backed A. P. Hamann, city manager, in his attitude toward the problems.

KING SIZE TOAST ... A champagne toast, worthy of the California State Fair and Exposition, is being proposed by Joni Kreatz, state fair model, as she checks an exhibit of wine. All exhibits will be open to the public during the Fair from August 31 through September 11.

Campbell cops nab two girls after wild chase

Two young Campbell girls, one 16 and the other 13, are being held in Juvenile Hall after being pursued by the sheriff's deputies and Campbell police last Friday evenning in a wild chase that topped 100 miles an hour at times.

Campbell police were contacted by the sheriff's deputies who said a 16 year old local girl, driving her mother's 1955 Mercury, and a companion, were in the vicinity and were suspected of stealing groceries from a Fremont store.

Campbell police spotted the girls in the car just as they turned north on Winchester Road from Latimer Ave. They pursued the car east on Hamilton to the freeway where it headed south. The speeding car was brought to a halt at the Los Gatos cut-off. Campbell police officer Lawrence Kelley nabbed the older girl after a chase across a field. The two girls were taken to Juvenile Hall by deputies.

The girls, said to have been accompanied by two boys, were returning from an unauthorized trip to Modesto. The boys were not passengers during the chase from Campbell to Los Gatos.

DREAM GIRL . . . Judy Ulstad, 17-year-old professional swimmer and recent honor graduate of Redwood City's Sequoia high school, will reign as "Dream Girl" of the nine-day San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta beginning tomorrow. After taking part in the many special events during fair time, Judy will go on to Sacramento to compete for the Maid of California title at the State Fair.

Patients on sodium-re-restricted diets can now "read the label" for the sodium content of their drinking and cooking water, Joseph Fischer, M.D., chairman of the Santa Clara County Heart Association Nutrition Committee, reporter this week.

The California Heart Association and the State Department of Public Health have just completed a survey of the sodium in public water systems supplying approximately 80 per cent of California's population.

The report, titled "Sodium Content of Drinking Water" is intended as a reference source for physicians, dieticians, health departments, medical teaching institutions and chapters of the California Heart Association, Fischer said.

County Safety Council meets at La Rinconada

The 11th Annual Meeting and Awards Dinner of the Santa Clara County Safety Council will be held this Thursday, at the La Rinconada Country Club, according to Levi Gilbert, president of the Council.

"The purpose of the meeting is three fold" said Gilbert: "First, new officers and members of the Board of Directors for 1960-61 will be elected. Second, awards for outstanding safety records for participants in the Council's Inter-Plant and Inter-Fleet Safety Contests will be presented and third, brief reports on the year's activities will be made.

"Each community in the County has representation on our Board of Directors based on population and because of the population increases in many cities of the County, a re-alignment of the Board of Directors will be necessary," chairman of the nominating committee Roger R. Williams said. Williams is being assisted by past Presidents Walter L. Jensen, Robert Minardi, Robert T. Bryant and Warren Philbrook, council vice president.

About 60 awards will be presented to business and industrial firms entered in the Council's Inter-Plant Safety Contest and to operators of fleets entered in the Inter-Fleet Safety Contest.

Ross Miller, City Manager of Modesto will be the guest speaker.

Miller's topic "A Look Ahead" will predict California's industrial and economic growth along with the possible population expansion in the next decade.

About 200 are expected at the dinner meeting.

SMITH GERALD HUDSON

One of the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives," Hudson is sought for his August 2, 1957, escape from the Pennsylvania State Penitentiary where he was serving a 10- to 20-year term for the brutal 1951 shotgun slaying of a Pennsylvania man. A Federal complaint charging Hudson with unlawful interstate flight to avoid confinement for murder was issued on August 26, 1957, at Scranton, Pa.

Anyone receiving information concerning the whereabouts of this fugitive should immediately notify the nearest FBI office, the telephone number of which can be found on the first page of local telephone directories.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

By The California Association of Nurserymen

1. Annuals are the answer to post-vacation bare spots in the garden. Many are already abloom in nursery flats.

2. If you leave your garden in a friend's care, simplify his watering chores by moving all potted and tubbed plants plants to one area.

3. Dig early-blooming gladiolus when tops dry off. Cut off the dead stalks and dust the corms with insecticide before storing in a cool, dry place.

4. Set out stocks now for fall and winter bloom.

5. Select and set out bearded iris this month. Give them sun—full-time in the coastal areas, at least half-time inland.

AT SUMMER BEST

It's a rare garden that does not need a lift in summer, a shot in the arm to revive the fading glory of the earlier months. And gifted, indeed, is the gardener who owns one. For while the trick is not really difficult to achieve, it takes long-range planning, and that stops most of us.

Why must we run head-on into a condition before we know it exists? And face to face with it, why do most of us shrug and say, "Oh well, it's too late to remedy now." Is there a better time than this summer to plant what we know we'll need for next? The California Association of Nurserymen will tell you there's not.

Annuals are angels in distress when we find a need for color, but they can't carry the burden of repair alone. Had we planted some summer-blooming shrubs and trees a year ago, we'd be enjoying their encore of bloom right now.

Roses, of course, should carry a major load through these warm months, but if you haven't learned that by now you deserve a bare spot or two. You can have their color right now, however, if you purchase plants in full bloom in containers from your C.A.N. nurseryman.

Has a new Hibiscus caught your eye? Plant it now. No need to wait. You'll get some bloom from it right off. The same goes for such durable garden subjects as Escalonia and Abelia.

If you share our yen for the colorful and unusual, you no doubt will be attracted to the Shrimp Plant. A row of its cream and bronze bracts under a floor-to-ceiling window or in a raised bed provides a big show through summer and fall.

Crape Myrtles —especially the new ones — are sturdy performers for inland areas where they grow to small tree-size and bloom profusely. And the feathery, graceful Silk Tree is a favorite with all who know it and grow it for the fine foliage and massed pink canopy of flowers. Grow it and your summer garden won't lack for color. That we'll guarantee.

*Botanically, Shrimp Plant is Beloperone Guttata; Crape Myrtle is Lagerstroemia indicia; Silk Tree is Albizzia julibrissin.

Plan For Fall

If you dream of fall color, we'll give you a clue. It's time you stopped dreaming and started doing something about it. Yes, we know it's mid-summer, but we know, too, that planning ahead is the mark of a successful gardener. It counts every bit as much as a green thumb.

So grab a pencil and paper and look ahead to fall. Will it be a colorful season as things stand now? Or will you miss the traditional warm tones that should go with the season? Don't guess. Make an actual list of what you have and what you need.

You can't rely too heavily on the show Chrysanthemums puut on at that time of year. Select your colors carefully—to match the yellows, bronzes and other tones of fall—and use them in conjunction with shrubs that change colors at the proper time. You can probably get two blooms from Chrysanthemums now showing color in nurseries. Members of the California Association of Nurserymen suggest cutting them back when the present blooms fade, feeding and watering for a second crop in fall.

The yellows and oranges of Marigold also match the season and should be used liberally throughout your garden. Zinnias, Gaillardia and even new hybrid Gazanias should be considered for late summer planting where their vivid colors will carry over into fall.

Shrubwise, you'd do well to rely heavily on the red and orange berries of Pyracantha and the Cotoneaster. Some of the Cotoneasters, especially, will not only show seasonal color from their crops of berries, but will actually color up nicely in foliage too. Ask your CAN nurseryman about these.

Try also the Heavenly Bamboo for foliage color and at a higher level try Liquidamber, Flowering Cherry or other trees that speak of the season with their beautiful fall foliage. These will give you a preview in their first season of bigger and better falls to come.

Nostalgia from Plants

Few things stir memories of the past like a familiar plant. You crush a leaf along a garden path, and its fragrance brings a flood of nostalgia. What distant garden of what bygone day yielded that same fragrance? How old were we then? What were we doing?

We've seen it happen time and again—this nostalgic reaction. And we've come to know many plants as parts of a living past, as timeless treats which stir our senses to vivid recall. Ask a nearby member of the California Association of Nurserymen to show you some of those old-fashioned favorites.

One that always does it f us is English Lavender. T sight alone of this old gard favorite is enough to stir n mories. To dry and stor in a dresser drawer where fragrance greets us every d is to set up a continuous ries of flashbacks raci through our mind.

The unpretentious little nual, Mignonette, starts similar reaction. You seldo see it these days, but for g deners who come across flat of it in the local Ca nia Association of Nurse men display yard, Mignonette is a reminder of an e lier day. And younger g deners, discovering it for first time, will never forg the scent.

Rosemary is sure to stri a note with a good many g deners. A rugged (and ragged) garden shrub, it giv us a pleasing gray tone and scent that goes way back our garden heritage. You c dry the leaves for culina use and harvest a double ward thereby.

Health Department claims garbage cans main source of fly problem

Garbage cans are the most common source of backyard fly problem. This is one of the findings of a survey now being made by the Santa Clara County Health Department.

James St. Germaine, assistant Chief of the Department's sanitation division, announced that the survey is taking place in typical neighborhoods in the county to find the actual source of these pests which make summer living a problem.

Almost half of the garbage containers examined in the survey contained fly maggots, he stated. These same containers were responsible for flies in over 60% of the homes which had a fly problem.

Out of 371 homes already surveyed, 52% had backyard fly breeding sources. These sources included garbage cans, piles of lawn clippings, compost heaps and animal pens, he said. Another 12% of the homes surveyed had potential fly breeding sources.

The survey areas were selected to provide the Health Department with an overall picture of residential neighborhood fly sources and problems.

He reported that a recent survey of residential fly sources in Savannah, Georgia, also pointed to garbage containers as the number one source of flies around the home.

The Santa Clara County survey to date has shown that 46% of the garbage containers are producing flies. St. Germaine pointed out that this number is more than sufficient to account for a large portion of the flies that plague valley residents each summer.

Many of the garbage cans that contained fly maggots were actually in good condition, he continued. However, many homeowners had neglected to place the can covers on tightly, had failed to line the cans with paper, or had not cleaned out the can after the last garbage collection.

He urged all homeowners to check their garbage cans for holes or loose fitting lids which allow flies to enter. Household garbage should be wrapped in several thicknesses of newspaper before it is placed in the container to provide a barrier against flies.

"Many of the homeowners contacted during the survey did not realize that their own backyards were the source of the flies about which they complained", he stated.

"We hope that this survey will help point out to people that eradicating flies is a job that requires the cooperation of everyone in the county".

He invited residents with serious fly problems to contact the Santa Clara County Health Department for advice and assistance.

SUPERSONIC SPEEDS AND A HEAVY PAYLOAD OF BOMBS AND MISSILES MAKE THE "SKYWARRIOR" A POTENT WEAPON IN TODAY'S GLOBAL NAVY. THIS CARRIER-BASED HEAVY ATTACK PLANE HAS ATOMIC CAPABILITIES, WITH THE ABILITY TO STRIKE DISTANT TARGETS WHICH WERE BEYOND THE RANGE OF NAVY CARRIER AIRCRAFT IN THE PAST. WEIGHING MORE THAN 70,000 POUNDS, THE "SKYWARRIOR" IS THE LARGEST FLEET-TYPE AIRCRAFT IN USE TODAY.

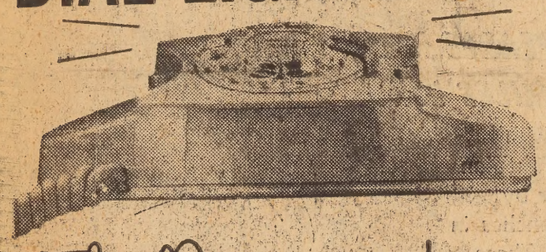
DIAL LIGHTS UP!



The Princess phone

This beautiful extension phone is scarcely larger than your hand. Its modern styling goes anywhere in your home. And the dial lights up! Comes in 5 colors, costs just pennies a day after a one-time charge—call our business office or ask your telephone service man.

Pacific Telephone
PART OF THE NATION-WIDE BELL SYSTEM

HALF THE SIZE . . . The new Princess telephone, half the size and weight of most instruments now in use, is being introduced in Campbell, John A. Larsen, district manager, has announced. It is the first major home telephone change since 1949 when the '500' set was put on the market by the Bell system. The new phone is oval-shaped and has a clear plastic dial which can be turned on with a switch in the base to glow softly as a night light. The dial will light up automatically when the receiver is lifted. The debut of the Princess follows five years of research, engineering and testing by the Bell laboratories. Pacific Telephone's Jackie Willard is hold one of the new sets.

California business shows gain in June, 'Bank Review' indicates

Business was slightly better in California in June than it was in May, according to the current Business Review of Wells Fargo Bank - American Trust Company.

The bank's seasonally-adjusted index—charted both in current dollars and in average 1947-49 dollars—registered respective figures of 256 and 214. Both indexes showed nominal gains of three points for the month, only one point below the all-time highs recorded in February of this year.

The current dollar business index averaged out at 255 for the second quarter of the year, the same average figure reported for the first quarter.

Total employment in California reached 6,015,000 in June. The gain of 64,000 workers for the month was somewhat smaller than normal. Summer additions to the work force resulted in an increase in unemployment for June of 20,000 persons.

In the all-important field of manufacturing employment, the favorable experience of the San Francisco Bay Area for the year ending June, 1960, was noticeably contrary to the experience of the nation and of California.

On the basis of preliminary figures cited in the Wells Fargo American Trust Business Review, manufacturing employment in the United States and in California was down very slightly from the June, 1959, levels. In the seven key counties of the San Francisco Bay Area, however, manufacturing employment showed a healthy gain of six per cent for the year.

The Area's factory payrolls currently include an estimated 269,300 workers, a gain of 14,200 over June of 1959. This employment gain was shared rather generally by the Bay Area's widely diversified industries.

Camp Fire and Blue Bird news

By Naomi James

In response to requests for some type of progression pattern as a guide in the campcraft program, Camp Fire Girls have reinstated the Gypsy skills. The three steps in this rank are Fagot Finder, Trail Marker, and Gypsy.

This year at Cadaca 51 girls will have earned the first symbol of Fagot Finder. The requirements for Fagot Finders are (1) learn basic facts about fire building. (2) Learn proper use of a jackknife; (3) Take a responsible part in planning and cooking two meals out-of-doors; (4) Pack a sleeping bag; (5) Learn two knots; (6) Using a compass, mark a trail using temporary blazes; and (7) Discuss and learn the conservation pledge.

In following the pattern offered in this guide, the Day Camp staff has developed an interesting and rewarding experience for the campers. Next year the ones who worked on it this year will work on the next step of Trail Marker, and so on to Gypsy.

An Aide-in-day-camp (AIDS) is a high school girl who enjoys working with younger girls, who helps them with craft activities, takes them on hikes, gives her counselor time to attend meetings and has a reservoir of patience amazing in one so young.

When the counselors were asked if the Aides were successful as counselors' helpers, they responded with a heartfelt and grateful "Yes!" Some counselors called them their extra eyes, and other right hand. Their most important accomplishment in some eyes was just "being friends to the campers."

Camp Fire Girls is proud of the teenagers in the organization who give so freely of their time and of themselves to "pass the light given to them, undimmed, to others".

Campbell District will have two sessions of day camp this summer. The second one begins August 1 to 5. When it is over 205 campers will have enjoyed swimming, hiking, collecting material for crafts, wading, playing with the animals in Nature Nook, and preparing their dramatic presentation for Friday night's Council Fire.

Original names were chosen for each group and signs made from natural materials. They also made plaster of paris arrangements, nature pictures, driftwood arrangements, blue print pictures and sit-up-on carryalls. On Wednesday of each session, the camp had a weiner roast; on Friday nights an overnight followed a Hookout and Council Fire.

Anyone having miscellaneous articles such as bottle caps, egg cartons, driftwood, shells or pretty rocks which she would like to donate to the Camp Fire Girls or Blue Birds for craft work can reach me, Naomi James, at FR 8-2250 and arrange for pickup.

Oh well, Campbell mothers play mostly for fun

Campbell Little League mothers have scheduled a return baseball game with the "MacDonald Moms" of the Santa Clara Little League Women's Auxiliary after getting a shellacking in last Sunday's game at Rosary School. The score was 9 to 5 in favor of the Santa Clara mothers.

The game will be played at the Rosemary diamond with starting time set for 1 p.m. The public is invited to attend the event which will be the final game of the Little League season.

A feature of the afternoon will be presentation of trophies to The Robins, winning Little League team.

Last Sunday's game was the first competitive game for the Campbell mothers, who recently organized the women's team for their own amusement and as a means of bringing in revenue to purchase additional equipment for the Campbell Little League teams.

The local team received a major setback in the second inning when Mrs. Evelyn Wood, who was substitute catcher, broke her hand while making a catch and had to be taken to a hospital for treatment. The team's regular catcher, Mrs. Pat MacLain, was at home recuperating from mumps. Mrs. Nadine Sargent was pitcher for the Campbell team.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY ... Miss Sadie Maxson (above) displays one of the three birthday cakes served guests during a party and open house which marked her 91st birthday. She has been a resident of Campbell for 47 years.

Friends fete Miss Sadie Maxson with party on her 91st birthday

A party and "open house" on July 12 marked a memorable day for Miss Sadie Maxson of 39 N. Central Ave. It was her 91st birthday.

Some twenty-two friends and relatives gathered at her home to honor her during the affair which was held from 2:30 to 5 p.m. In charge of the party was Miss Maxson's sister, Mrs. Gertrude Stanford, who resides with her, and Mrs. Ann Duckett, housekeeper for the two ladies.

For the occasion, guests were served the traditional birthday cake, including one made by Mrs. Duckett, and fruit punch. Bouquets of red stock and of gladioli and snapdragons added a colorful note to decor.

A resident of Campbell since 1913, Mrs. Maxson, years ago, owned and operated two hotels in Campbell during her busy life. One was the Sutter Hotel, then located on the southeast corner of E. Campbell and Central Avenues, and the Campbell Hotel, across the street, which was torn down last year.

In addition, she spent many years as nurse and found time to be an active member of the Congregational Church and an improvement club concerned with the Campbell area. Since October of 1959, she has been confined to bed with a broken arm.

Those signing the guest book were:

Mesdames Zadie Rice, Ethelda Minehart, Ellen Lanphear, Lee Critchlow, Edna F. Garold Lawtons honeymoon at Carmel following afternoon rites

A honeymoon trip to Carmel and Monterey followed the marriage of Miss Geraldine Kay Bozarth to Garold Arnold Lawton.

The young couple recited vows at the home of the Rev. E. W. Womack, 300 Sunberry Drive, Campbell. Reverend Womack, a close friend of the couple, performed the late afternoon double-ring ceremony.

The newlyweds then received some twenty guests at the Womack home and cut their three-tier wedding cake which was topped with a miniature bride and groom beneath a lace arch.

For the occasion the fireplace was banked with baskets of white gladioli and greenery to carry out the bridal theme.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward D. Bozarth of 1211 Pollard Road, is a June graduate of Campbell High School where she was an active member of the Speech and Debate Club and a member of Camp Fire Girls.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Lawton of Worland, Wyoming, graduated from Midwest High School and is now employed at Lockheed.

When given in marriage by her father, Geraldine was attired in a street-length white princess dress, with bolero jacket featuring three-quarter sleeves, and a small white feathered hat with shoulder-length veil edged with while flowers. To complement her ensemble, she wore a corsage of white carnations centered with an orchid.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Alice Olitha Spelts, who wore a sleeveless green chiffon frock with bouffant skirt and a corsage of green carnations.

Jim Wolff performed the duties of best man and Miss Sharon Womack was organist for the ceremony.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bozarth chose a white nylon chiffon with blue floral print and blue cummerbund and pinned on a corsage of blue-tinted carnations.

Because of distance, parents of the groom were unable to attend the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawton have now returned from their trip and are residing at 3322 Clair Court, Santa Clara.

William Blues' remodeled home retains charm of bygone era

By Vivian Faulkner

At the end of Fruitdale Ave., secluded by a forest of tall pine trees, is an interesting old house which seems to have escaped the the hustle of modern day living as it rests quietly in a setting of old-fashioned gardens patterned after a bygone era.

This is the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Blue and their daughter, Cathy, 14.

The Blues have lived in this charming home since it was moved to its present site at 2398 Fruitdale over nineteen years ago. Originally it was located on the San Jose-Los Gatos Road not far from Campbell Ave.

Built almost 100 years ago, the house was moved when the road was widened. The Blues, newly married, saw possibilities in the house, then badly in need of repairs, and bought it as a hobby they could share.

Since moving into their home, Mr. and Mrs. Blue have worked together on a continuous remodeling project. As soon as one job is finished another is designed and started. So far, they have lowered the high ceilings, added new window and door framings, built many, many closets, added a large service porch (not yet finished), wallpapered, painter, added flooring, built a stairway to the second floor and a fireplace, knocked out partitions and refinished the attic, to say nothing of the tremendous amount of outside work on the gardens.

The house, painted white with full-length dark green shutters at the long windows, contains six large rooms, bath, pantry and wide hallway on the first floor and a second floor bedroom for Cathy.

In addition to their remodeling, the Blues also have added furniture collecting to their interests and have furnished their home with a blend of modern traditional, Victorian and antique pieces.

Centers of interest in the muted green and white papered combined dining-living room are the white colonial fireplace, edged with red brick, and the graceful mahogany and white stairway, which were built by Blue alone.

Carpeted with beige hooked rugs with floral design, furnishings include a victorian sofa upholstered in gold damask, plum and white striped matching lawson sofas, an antique organ in one corner, and a Sheraton secretary.

The master bedroom, done in shades of pink and grey, boasts a pink canopied four-postered bed, skirted vanity with antique mirror, and very old platform rocker among its furnishings.

This particular bedroom also is connected with a rather interesting bit of history. According to Mrs. Blue, during the days of prohibition and while the house was located on the San Jose-Los Gatos Road, it served as headquarters for a bootlegger, who hid his liquor in some rather ingenious places, one being this bedroom.

Mrs. Blue pointed out an upper stop to one of the closet doors which swiveled, allowing sections on both sides of the door casing to slide out and thus provide shelving for many bottles of liquor. Liquor also was hidden under the broad window sills which contained hidden space inside the walls. All that is now in the past, for the Blues have securely nailed the swiveling boards to the frames.

[illegible] the gardens, which completely encircle the house, are laid out with flower bordered walks, informal plots of sweet williams, pansies, snapdragons, coral bells, roses, iris, unusual shrubs and trees, as well as summer houses and two native rock waterfalls in shady nooks.

Most of the garden designs and flower plots are the work of Mrs. Blue, an ardent gardener, who also finds time in her busy life to serve as president of the local Blossom Valley Garden Club, of which she has been a member for many years. One of her chief delights is an unusual evergreen dogwood shrub, said to be the largest in the county, which has reached about 15 feet in heighth.

When not working on the house, the Blues spend their leisure time relaxing in their garden and enjoying the fruits of their labor.

Garden Club to meet for picnic

Campbell Garden Club members will go dressed for fun next Wednesday when they hold a combined potluck picnic and brief business session at Alum Rock Park.

Play clothes will be the order of the day for members who will meet at the far end of the picnic grounds at 12:30 p.m. with lunch and table service. Coffee will be provided. After lunch, the afternoon will be devoted to nature strolls, conversation and fun.

'Gasoline Gulch' in Cupertino, too

Campbell is not alone in its problem of having too many service stations, if that is any comfort.

Other communities are faced with the same situation. It is interesting to note they are reacting to the problem.

Last week The Press published an editorial, "Service Station saturation", and editorial cartoon, a letter to the editor and a news story, all relating to the over-abundance of service stations in this community.

Coincidentally at the same time we were presenting editorially this complex problem (complex because there doesn't seem to be much the city can do about it under the present zoning), the "Cupertino Courier" presented a similar editorial entitled, "Gasoline Gulch".

Because we felt that it would be enlightening to all of us to get an idea of how other communities handle similar situations, The Press reprints the editorial from the Cupertino Courier.:

GASOLINE GULCH
(Reprinted from the Cupertino Courier)

With service stations springing up in Cupertino like mushrooms after a spring rain, it might be well for city officials to take a long, slow look around the town before granting any additional use permits.

Councilman John Benetti's suggestion for a temporary freeze on such permits, which was apparently considered too radical for acceptance by the council, would not have interfered with future desirable service stations, but would have called a halt to the rush of applications until a rational overall plan is worked out.

The argument that a freeze on such permits might interfere with the sale of land might as well be carried to any city planning. If the council is to proceed on this basis, it might as well disband and let chaos take over.

As to the question whether a temporary freeze is legal, if commercial zoning is in effect, it should be remembered that gas stations further require use permits, which are issued by the city government according to its best judgment of the community welfare.

Town planning is done precisely in order to avoid the free-for-all resulting from those who are interested only in selling the most land for the most money.

Officials genuinely interested in a well-balanced City of Cupertino might do well to consider the suggestion, before the name of the town is changed to Gasoline Gulch.

A rebuff from the Council

The real estate broker who admitted instigating the confusion that has resulted from San Jose's Cherry Lane annexation into the heart of Campbell, was rebuffed recently by the Campbell City Council when he requested a favor from that body with respect to another development adjacent to the Cherry Lane annexation.

The Cherry Lane annexation is now tied up in litigation between San Jose and Campbell.

In order not to delay the development of an area adjacent to the Cherry Lane annexation, the broker wanted the Campbell City Council to approve the improvement of the area under county jurisdiction, but meeting both San Jose and Campbell building requirements. The broker pointed out that thus whenever the litigation was settled there would then be no problem, no matter which city was the victor in the law suit

We believe the Council acted wisely in refusing the request of the real estate broker.

The broker maintained that, if the Council would approve the request, the annexation which would bring Quito No. 4 into San Jose would be delayed pending the outcome of the San Jose-Campbell litigation over Cherry Lane annexation. Quito No. 4 adjoins the Cherry Lane sector.

The broker brazenly stated that despite the protests of many of the residents in Quito No. 4 (on the east and west sides of Rincon Ave.) he was confident that the annexation would be approved by San Jose on August 8 when the San Jose City Council holds a hearing on the matter.

The major weakness of the broker's case, in our opinion, was that he allegedly spoke for the San Jose City Council.

We sincerely hope than San Jose has not reached that stage.

ON THE FIRE LINE

BY THE

Campbell Fire Department

FACTS ABOUT FIRE:

The almost yearly record of thousands of fires, the loss and destruction and the often grim tragedy of fire fatalities in the United States is a sorry one. Most tragic of all is to know that by far the greatest proportion of these fires, destruction and death are avoidable.

There is nothing mysterious or complicated about the causes of most home fires. A cigarette is carelessly left to smoulder in an overstuffed chair or divan; refilling portable oil heaters while burning; overloading electrical circuits by a deluge of electric appliances which results in fuse boxes being "slugged" with fuses over the safe amperage limits; uncleared rubbish from basements, garages and attics; using an explosive flammable for cleaning purposes.

Fire deaths in home equally result from failure to follow the simple rules of fire safety; smoking in bed, leaving children alone at home or letting children play with matches.

One of the major failures is that most families are utterly unprepared to act in a fire emergency. No or little thought has been given to plan all possible escape routes from every room in the house or to actually hold a fire drill to make sure children as well as adults can safely and quickly move from the house.

As long as fires and fire deaths are regarded as deplorable accidents, progress will be slow in getting this education to "sink into" the average public. When people recognize them as the consequences of neglect and carelessness, the rules of fire safety and prevention will be learned and heeded.

The National Fire Protection Association conservatively estimates that eight out of each ten fire deaths that result in home fires could have been saved, if people would only plan ahead for a fire emergency.

Pre-planning is essential, for fire spreads so rapidly that there is no time to think or plan or try and figure out what to do.

Every person, adult or child should know automatically what to do.

Primary rules are:

1. Know at least two escape routes from each room or area of your house.

2. Doors in bedrooms will hold back smoke, heat and flame allowing extra time to escape through an alternate route; windows, outside doors, etc.

3. Pick an outside assembly point where everyone will meet.

4. Under no circumstance, once everyone is out, allow any one to re-enter—Stay out.

5. Know how to notify your local fire department from another source; make sure the department is notified immediately.

This can be done from neighbor's phone or by persons passing the scene.

BUT—JUST MAKE SURE THEY ARE CALLED.

Juvenile officer tells Rotary of problems

A few of the problems with children faced by the Santa Clara County Juvenile Department were described Monday to Rotarians by David LaGassi, juvenile probation officer.

Seven of every one hundred teenage boys at one time or another makes contact with the police and is taken to Juvenile Hall, LaGassi said, where they receive schooling and attend church. The youngster is the chief object in juvenile justice, he pointed out, not punishment for his act. Acts of violence, which are increasing among the older teenage group, LaGassi said, are referred to the general court.

Parents of youngsters held in Juvenile Hall or sent to James Ranch, a large, low-cost program for boys, are required to pay $3.50 per day for the child's maintenance, which, authorities believe, make them feel more responsible for the child.

Present needs of the Juvenile Department, LaGassi said, are facilities for boys under 14 years of age and for girls from 14-17 years.

County utilities assessed values jump 10 per cent

Utility properties in Santa Clara County have been assessed by the State Board of Equalization at $103,883,390, almost a 10 per cent gain over the valuation placed upon them a year ago.

The 158 companies subject to state assessments have two weeks in which to protest their values, after which the utility rolls will be sent to the counties for extension of local property taxes that are expected to total about $275 million.

These preliminary state-assessed values, when added to the $25.8 billion of county-assessed values on nonutility property will boost the local property tax base for the 1960-61 fiscal year to over $29½ billion, according to George R. Reilly First District Member of the State Board of Equalization.

This latter total, Reilly noted, was 7 1/3 per cent greater than last year's tax base. He predicted that taxes levied on this base during the current fiscal year for the support of counties, cities, school districts, and other local governments will approximate $2,150,000,000.

Forty-four of California's 58 counties shared in the increase in the value of utility property assessments. In 18 counties the increase was greater than that for the State as a whole, while in five counties the growth was more than three times the statewide increase of 4 per cent.

The bulk of all utility assessments is represented by the properties of 30 gas and electric companies, with an assessed value of $2,099,000,000--2½ per cent more than last year's figure. The tangible property of 55 telephone and telegraph companies were assessed at $1,287,000,000, up 10 per cent over the 1959 base. The 30 railroads, on the other hand with an aggregate assessed value of $355 million, were down by $17½ million, or almost 5 per cent from the 1959 value.

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS
TENTH DISTRICT, CALIFORNIA

When Congress reconvenes on August 8 it will come to final grips with the problem of Medical Care for our senior citizens. Though it is complicated, I shall attempt to explain the bill passed by the House and anticipate major arguments.

After three months of hearings, the House Ways Committee rejected the Forand Bill which extended limited medical care to only those receiving Social Security benefits. Main reason was that 4 million of the neediest would receive no benefits at all. On the other hand the Forand Bill did cover a few millionaires. Another reason was resistance to increased payroll taxes from younger wage earners.

The Ways and Means Committee also turned down the proposal by the Administration which gave greater coverage than the Forand Bill but only to those in the lower income brackets. Principal objection to this bill was that using the income test withheld protection from some with a higher income who could be pauperized in a few weeks with a major illness.

Ways and Means Committee members wrote their own bill and presented it on a "take it or leave it" basis under a rule which prevented amendment. The House overwhelmingly took it as a good start realizing that no proposal would be completely satisfactory to everyone.

The House bill sets up a joint federal and state program to be administered by states. It does no apply an income test for eligibility but leaves each state to determine who "is in need of assistance with respect to medical problems and medical care." The scope of benefits will be determined by the states, but the House has stated the extent to which the federal government will go in aiding a state program. For example, it will help the state to provide 120 days of in-hospital care as compared with 60 days under the Forand Bill. It will participate with the states in providing up to $200 annually for both prescribed drugs and laboratory and X-Ray charges. Additionally it will provide for nursing home services, physicians, outpatient hospital services, home care, private duty nursing, therapeutic services, and major dental treatment.

Though the House bill covers fewer people only those who can't afford medical care) it is noteworthy that it provides greater benefits than the Forand Bill.

Chairman Wilbur Mills (D-Ark.) frankly admits that the necessity for each state to take action to participate in the program is a weakness. "But I remind you", Chairman Mills said, "that we did the same thing with respect to four other titles of social security years ago. It has developed that . . . practically all States . . . have set up not just one but all four of the programs . . . ".

Political pressures are tremendous for the Forand Bill, and it is certain to collide head-on with the House bill. Both plans haveadvantages and defects. It is hoped that the political fever generated from the conventions won't dull rationality as we approach this serious and much needed program.

LAW IN ACTION

SUPPORTING ONE'S PARENTS

Parents have a legal duty to support their children, and adult sons and daughters to support parents who cannot care for themselves.

Failure to do so can become a crime.

But if a parent abandoned the child under sixteen years old, the adult son or daughter later cannot be forced to support such a parent.

The children's duty exists only if they are able to support the parents. And if so, the state can, within certain limits, take the cost of the parent's care out of the grown sons or daughters' pockets.

A married daughter with "separate" property (which she had before marriage or got afterwards as gift or inheritance) might have to care for a parent. But without a husband's consent, the state cannot take money for such support out of community property (what either or both earned after marriage).

Needy persons over sixty-five years may get "county" aid which the federal, state, and the county governments pay for, even though adult children can support them. But if so, the government may want and can get repayment in whole or part up to $195 per month. The state may also call on adult children to pay up to $178 a month for parents' support and care in a s institution.

Under the Old Age Secu law persons over sixty- years can be "needy" e with some income and p erty, but parents without Age Security can get sup from their children only if t are "unable" to support th selves.

A person can get social curity—which rests on much, for how long he has in — even though he is needy and can support h self.

Young's Patrol 5

Exploding for 5 runs in the fifth inning the Trailermen came from behind to win their first game in the second half. Making his first league start Manuel Infante allowed but 3 hits, the best of these being Jim Ryan's double. Jim Anatacio took the loss giving up six hits and eight free passes. Big blow for the winners was Jerry Ordiniza's home run driving in two runs.

Ferea Concrete 4
Disheroon Painters 2

Securing 8 hits and playing errorless ball Ferea Concrete knocked over the Painters last week to hand them their first loss in this half. Jim Sparacino allowed but 5 hits and struck out 11 for the win. Danny Castellanos and Ralph Calderon each had two hits and Jess Aguilar a timely single driving in two runs for the winners. Martinez was the losing hurler. Ray Townsend drove in both Painters runs with a home run in the 5th. Knadler and Cedillo added doubles for the losers.

Towne Pride 1
Local 888 0

Dick Meek's sixth inning home run paved the way for a Towne Pride victory over a tough 888 group. Frank Calabray and Dick Garibaldi hooked up in a tight pitching duel. Only Bill Ashley and Garibaldi could garner hits off the pitching of Calabray as he struck out 5 and walked but one. Garibaldi was just as effective allowing only one hit, that the home run to Meek. Local 888 left six men stranded as Towne Pride tightened in the clutches.

Al's Sporting Goods 12
Atom Club 0

Playing without the services of their ace pitcher, Ron Gonzales, the Atom Club was no match forthe league leading Sporting Goods squad. Scoring 8 big runs in the first inning on but two hits the winners were never in trouble. Paul Salinas pitched an almost perfect game as he allowed no hits and only two runners reached first base. Jim Capurso led the winners at the plate with two of his teams six hits. Harvey Kolstad was the losing chucker.

HALL OF FAME

Five outstanding San Jose State athletes, headed by sprinter Ray Norton, have been elected to the Spartan Hall of Fame.

Foreign exchange students arrive during month

Three foreign exchange students who come to the three high schools of the Campbell Union High School District through the American Field Service, will arrive this month.

Campbell High School will welcome Helen Agathonos of Athens, Greece, who will live with the Burnette Creighton family at 780 Hacienda, Campbell. Jim Swart of Harderwijk, Holland was the Campbell High School student during the past year.

At Camden High School, Arlette Thabuis of Haute-Savoie, France will be the foreign exchange student, who will live with the Frank Rouse family at 330 Dallas Drive, Campbell. David Morris of Cuffley, England, was the first foreign exchange student at Camden during the past year.

At Del Mar High School, following Aud Ostin-Olsen of Stavanger, Norway, who has recently returned home after being the first foreign exchange student in the new high school, will be Mitsuhara Fujisawa of Tokyo, Japan, who arrives early in August to be with the Anthony Pisano family at 711 Chauncey Way, San Jose.

On The Americans Abroad program, whereby American students go abroad, Kirstin Erlendson of Del Mar High School has spent the summer in Bremen, Germany, and Wendy Ragent of Camden High School has been in Helsinki, Finland.

Ruth Howd of Campbell High School leaves late in August for Hanover, Germany to attend school there and to live with a German family. In preparation for her schooling this fall, she is studying the German language intensively. She is the first student from the Campbell Union High School District to go to school on the program.

She will return in February to continue her studies at Campbell High School, where she will graduate in June with her class.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day

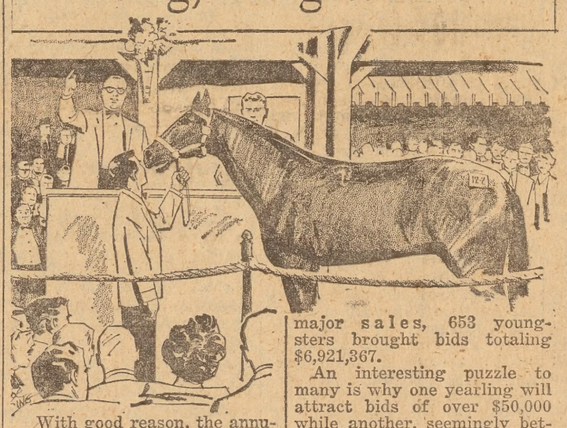
Going, Going... Gone!



With good reason, the annual auction sales of yearlings at Lexington, Ky., Saratoga, N.Y. and Del Mar, California, in late July and August, are called the greatest gamble of all. Many owners who would never bet on their horse in a race will, in effect, bet thousands of dollars on their judgment of a young Thoroughbred.

This year nodded heads, fingered ears, hand waves, vocal response to the auctioneer and an occasional swatted fly will be translated by alert bid-watchers into close to $7,000,000 in yearling transactions. Last year, at the three major sales, 653 youngsters brought bids totaling $6,921,367.

An interesting puzzle to many is why one yearling will attract bids of over $50,000 while another, seemingly better looking and equally well bred, will make the auctioneer work hard to fetch a bid of $5,000. All violins may look alike, and the inexperienced might choose a well-polished but toneless factory-made fiddle to an unlabeled Stradivarius. While the sales are famed for expensive failures and sensational bargains, there is a solid strata in between which bring good prices and prove to be good race horses. Venetian Way, this year's Kentucky Derby winner was bought for $10,500 as a yearling in 1958 and thus far has earned $310,207.

BACK HOME ... Pinky MacGregor, of 14 Herbert Lane, Campbell, along with other members of the Santa Clara County contingent, returned Sunday from the Boy Scout Jubilee Jamboree in Colorado Springs, where 58,000 Scouts were in attendance. Pinky, who was special Jamboree correspondent for The Press, will summarize the Jamboree activities in next week's issue of The Press.

ONE FOR THE ROAD . . . a toy, that is, and the idea is to keep youngsters busy and happy during long drives on your summer vacation. The suggestion comes from Carol Lane, women's travel director for Shell Oil Company. She reports a good way to keep the 'squirmers' occupied and in place is a mystery box, a decorated hatbox or shoebox filled with small gaily-wrapped toys. When the child gets restless, open it and let him select a surprise gift.

ENROLLMENT UP

University of Santa Clara's fall enrollment will top 1325 full time students, it was predicted today by David P. Arata, registrar, reflecting a 20 per cent increase in the freshman class over the 1959 figure. Applications for admission also have noted a big rise, Arata explained, with his office processing 30 per cent more inquiries than in 1959. Most of the young men entering SCU this fall were born in 1942, the first year of World War II.

All signs may be reinspected at the discretion of the Building Official.

Section 8525. Design.

1. General.

Signs and sign structures shall be designed and constructed to resist wind and seismic forces as specified in this Section. All bracing systems shall be designed and constructed to transfer lateral forces to the foundations. For signs on buildings the dead and lateral loads shall be transmitted through the structural frame of the building to the ground in such manner as not to overstress any of the elements thereof.

The overturning moment produced from lateral forces shall in no case exceed two-thirds of the dead-load resisting moment. Uplift due to overturning shall be adequately resisted by proper anchorage to the ground or to the structural frame of the building. The weight of earth superimposed over footings may be used in determining the dead-load resisting moment. Such earth shall be carefully placed and thoroughly compacted.

2. Wind Loads.

For the purpose of design, and except for roof signs and combination signs, wind pressure shall be taken upon the gross area of the vertical projection of all signs and sign structures at not less than 15 pounds per square foot for those portions less than sixty feet (60') above the ground, and at not less than 20 pounds per square foot for those portions more than sixty feet (60') above the ground.

Wind pressure upon roof signs and combination signs and their supports shall be taken at not less than 30 pounds per square foot of the gross area of the plane surface, acting in any direction. In calculating wind pressure on curved surfaces such as cylindrical or spherical signs or sign structures, this pressure shall be assumed to act on six-tenths of the projected area. In all open frame signs or sign structures the area used in computing wind pressure shall be one and one-half times the net area of the framing members exposed to the wind.

3. Seismic Loads.

Signs and sign structures shall be designed and constructed to resist seismic forces as specified in Section 2312, Appendix, of the Uniform Building Code.

4. Combined Loads.

Wind and seismic loads need not be combined in the design of signs or sign structures; only that loading which produces the larger stresses need be used.

Vertical design loads, except roof live loads shall be assumed to be acting simultaneously with the wind or seismic loads.

5. Allowable Stresses.

The design of wood, concrete, or steel members shall conform to the requirements of Chapters 25, 26, and 27, of the Uniform Building Code. Loads, both vertical and horizontal, exerted on the soil shall not produce stresses exceeding those specified in Chapter 23 of the Uniform Building Code.

The working stresses of wire rope and its fastenings shall not exceed 25 per cent of the ultimate strength of the rope or fasteners.

Working stresses for wind or seismic loads combined with dead loads may be increased as specified in Section 2303 of the Uniform Building Code.

Section 8526. Construction.

1. General.

The supports for all signs or sign structures shall be placed in or upon private property and shall be securely built, constructed, and erected in conformance with the requirements of this Code.

2. Materials.

Materials of construction for signs and sign structures shall be of the quality and grade as specified for buildings in the Uniform Building Code.

In all signs and sign structures the materials and details of construction shall, in the absence of specified requirements, conform with the following:

(a) Structural steel shall be of such quality as to conform with Uniform Building Code Standard 27-1-58. Secondary members in contact with, or directly supporting the display surface, may be designed in accordance with the specifications of the design of light gauge steel as specified in Uniform Building Code Standards 27-2-58 and 27-3-58 and in addition shall be galvanized. Secondary members, when formed integrally with the display surface, shall be not less than No. 24 gauge in thickness. When not formed integrally with the display surface, the minimum thickness of the secondary members shall be No. 12 gauge. The minimum thickness of hot-rolled steel members furnishing structural support for signs shall be one-fourth inch (1/4"). Steel pipes shall be of such quality as to conform with Uniform Building Code Standard 27-4-58. Steel members may be connected with one galvanized bolt provided the connection is adequate to transfer the stresses in the members.

(b) Anchors and supports when of wood which are embedded in the soil, or within six inches (6") of the soil, shall be of all heartwood of a durable specie or shall be pressure-treated with an approved preservative. Such members shall be marked or branded by an approved agency.

3. Restrictions on Combustible Materials.

All signs and sign structures erected in Fire Zone No. 1 shall have structural members of incombustible materials.

Ground signs may be constructed of any material meeting the requirements of this Code, except as provided above.

Combination signs, roof signs, wall signs, projecting signs, and signs on marquees shall be constructed of incombustible materials, except as provided in Subsection 4 of this Section. No combustible materials other than approved plastics shall be used in the coonstruction of electric signs.

4. Nonstructural Trim.

Nonstructural trim may be of wood, metal, approved plastics, or any combination thereof.

5. Anchorage.

Members supporting unbraced signs shall be so proportioned that the bearing loads imposed on the soil in either direction, horizontal or vertical, shall not exceed the safe values. Braced ground signs shall be anchored to resist the specified wind or seismic load acting in any direction. Anchors and supports shall be designed for safe bearing loads on the soil and for an effective resistance to pull-out amounting to a force 25 per cent greater than the required resistance to overturning. Anchors and supports shall penetrate to a depth below ground greater than that of the frost line.

Portable ground signs supported by frames or posts rigidly attached to the base shall be so proportioned that the weight and size of the base will be adequate to resist the wind pressure specified in Section 8525-2.

Signs attached to masonry, concrete, or steel shall be safely and securely fastened thereto by means of metal anchors, bolts, or approved expansion screws of sufficient size and anchorage to support safely the loads applied.

No wooden blocks or plugs or anchors with wood used in connection with screws or nails shall be considered proper anchorage, except in the case of signs attached to wood framing.

No anchor or support of any sign shall be connected to, or supported by, a parapet wall, unless such wall is designed in accordance with the requirements specified in Section 2312, Appendix, of the Uniform Building Code for parapet walls.

6. Display Surfaces.

Display surfaces in all types of signs may be made of metal, glass or approved plastics, in accordance with the area limitations set forth in Tables No. 4-A and No. 4-B.

Section 8534. Projection and Clearance.

1. Projection.

Roof signs may project over public property or beyond a building line complying with the requirements specified in Section 8543.

2. Clearance and Access.

Passage clear of all obstructions shall be left under or around, and immediately adjacent to, all signs exceeding a height of four feet (4')) above the roof thereunder. Such passages shall be not less than three feet (3') wide and four (4') high and shall be at para pet or roof level.

There shall be one such passage or access opening as follows:

(a) For each roof sign upon a building.

(b) An access opening for every fifty lineal feet (50') of horizontal roof sign extension.

(c) Within twenty feet (20') of walls and parapets when roof signs are at right angles to a face of the building.

Section 8534. Wall Signs.

Wall signs shall be constructed of incombustible material, except as provided in Section 8526-4.

Section 8535. Design.

Wall signs shall be designed in accordance with the requirements specified in Chapter IV.

Section 8536. Projection.

No wall sign shall have a projection over public property or beyond a building line greater than the distances set forth in Table No. 7-A, nor shall extend above any adjacent parapet or roof of the supporting building. Danish Ballet comes to opera house August 12

The Royal Danish Ballet, which has a continuous history of performance on the same site since 1748, is the only ballet in the world which can present a repertory from three centuries, performed in the style of their own periods. The ballet, on the limited tour of the United States and Canada, opens in San Francisco on August 12 at the War Memorial Opera House for five performances.

The four evenings and one matinee to be seen August 12 through August 15, almost evenly divided between the modern and the old, will offer two of the company's full-length ballets, four of its biggest productions scenically.

Because of the size and facilities of the Opera House stage, San Francisco is one of only two cities in the country to have the full-length "Romeo and Juliet" staged for the company by Britain's great choreographer, Frederick Ashton. In ten scenes and epilogue, it is the largest production in the repertory of fifteen ballets brought on the tour. And that, in turn, is said to be the largest repertory ever brought by a visiting foreign company.

"Romeo and Juliet" will be presented on the evenings of both August 12 and 13. and also at the matinee performance of August 13. On August 14, San Francisco will see "La Sylphide," a Scottish legend in two acts; "Konservatoriet," a picture of the French style at its height; and "Napoli," the celebrated Bournonville's most famous ballet.

HEADS MORELAND BOARD . . . Robert Brydon, of 866 W. Latimer Ave., Campbell, who has been reelected president of the Moreland School District Board of Trustees. Albert Towle was also reelected clerk.
